STATUE OF "LIBERTY ENLIGHTENING THE WORLD."

More Money Needed.

The Committee in charge of the construction of the pedestal and the erection of the Statue, in order to raise funds for its completion, have prepared, from model furnished by the artist, a perfect facsimile miniature Statuette which they are delivering to subscribers throughout the United States at the following prices:

No. 1 Statuette, six inches in height, the Statue bronzed; Pedestal, nickel silvered, at One Dollar each, delivered.

No. 2 Statuette, in same metal, twelve inches high, beautifully bronzed and nickel, at Five Dollars each, delivered.

No. 3 Statuette, twelve inches high, finely chased, Statue bronzed, Pedestal, Illegibly Silver-Plated, with PLUSH STAND, at Ten Dollars each, delivered.

Much time and money have been spent in perfecting the Statuettes, and they are much improved over the first sent out. The Committee have received from subscribers many letters of commendation.

The New York World Fund of $100,000 completes the Pedestal, but it is estimated that $40,000 is yet needed to pay for the iron fastenings and the erection of the Statue.

Liberal subscriptions for the miniature Statuette will produce the desired amount.

The President Aggressive.

President Cleveland is apparently not in the midst of tempers these days and is showing a pronounced disposition to be aggressive. The first intimation that he was angry was given in his letter to the proprietors of Puck, in which he attacked the veracity of the press in general, and his disposition has not been sweetened by the speeches of Beck and Vance. With the latter he is especially displeased, and when Henry called at the White House Thursday and notified him that Vance, who is Chairman of the sub-committee of the Senate Committee on Finance, to which committee the nomination of Robert Barnett to be Collector of Internal Revenue for the fourth district of California has been referred, was anxious to ascertain upon what grounds Barnett's predecessor had been removed, the President replied: "Tell him I removed the old Collector because there is nothing in the tenure of office act that prohibits it, and further because the ex-Collector has held the office twelve or thirteen years. I do not think it necessary to give any additional reasons."

The silver people have prepared petitions to Congress, which they are scattering broadcast over the country for signatures praying Congress "to place the coinage of silver on an equality with gold; that there be issued coin certificates of one, two and five dollars; the same being made a legal tender; that one and two-dollar legal tender notes be issued, and that the public debt be paid as quickly as possible by applying for this purpose the idle surplus now in the Treasury." These petitions are coming back in large numbers and are being presented in the Senate and House.

The Consolidated California company is better off financially at the present than any other mining corporation whose shares are listed on the boards, having about $125,000 in the treasury. Stockholders are beginning to ask what disposition is to be made with this surplus, and whether some small—but none the less acceptable—dividend will not be paid. It is a long time since any profits from the old bonanza ground have been divided.

Senator Edmunds' bill to suppress polygamy in Utah passed the Senate Friday by a vote of 38 ayes to 7 nays. Those who voted nay were Blair, Call, Gibson, Hoar, Hampton, Morgan and Vance. Hoar, explaining his vote, said he voted against the bill only because of the section disfranchising women, but with that section in he would have voted for the bill had his vote been necessary to its passage.

The Eureka Sentinel says: Nevada wants a man for United States Senator who is worthy and well qualified, who has not too much business of his own to look after and who will devote himself to the welfare of his individual constituents and the State. Such a man must necessarily be a Nevada.

Upon the 16th of February Major-General Pope will be placed upon the retired list, and the appointment of his successor in the command of this department will become necessary. There are six Brigadier-Generals who are eligible: Terry, Howard, Crook, Miles, Stanley and Gibson.

Senator Wilson, of Iowa, has reported favorably from the Committee on Post-offices and Postroads the bill introduced by him to prohibit the mailing of newspapers and other publications containing lottery advertisements.

If the President removed Collector Frost, of Sacramento, because he held the office twelve or thirteen years, what will the Nevada Democrats do with Jewett Adams, who has been in for twelve years.

THE WORLD IN BRIEF.

Silver State, Sib.
A petition was circulated here yesterday and pretty generally signed by our citizens, asking Congress to restore the tariff of 1867 on wool. The only difference between the tariff of 1867 and the present tariff on wool, is that the ad-valorem duty of 10 per cent. on clothing wool, worth 30 cents per pound or less at the port whence it is shipped to the United States, was abolished by Act of Congress, approved March 3, 1883. The specific duty on such wool is now, as it has been since 1867, ten cents per pound. If such wools are washed the duty is twenty cents per pound and if scoured thirty cents per pound. As clothing wools are the only foreign wools that compete with Nevada wools, the present duty of ten cents per pound on unwashed wools of that character, ought, all things considered, to amply protect Nevada wool growers. The trouble has been, however, that the duty has not been collected. By an order of the Treasury Department, made under Arthur's Administration, which, it is alleged, was not printed and published with other orders of that Department, and therefore known only to a few favored importers, clothing wools were admitted, by undervaluation, upon payment of a duty of from two and a half to five cents per pound. This reduced the price of Nevada and Oregon wools to fourteen or fifteen cents per pound in the Eastern markets, and last Summer wool, which was protected from foreign competition by a tariff of ten cents per pound, sold along the railroad here in Nevada at eleven and twelve cents per pound. It was then evident to everybody who took the trouble to read the laws relating to the tariff on wool, that the duty on imported wools was not collected as prescribed by law, or that there was an over-production of wool in the United States. Subsequently, when changes were made in the Boston and Philadelphia Custom Houses, the fact became known that foreign wools were admitted at less than schedule rates, and wool advanced five or six cents per pound in a week. If the present tariff is honestly collected a duty of ten cents must be paid on every pound of imported wool that comes into competition with Nevada wool, and that, at this time, when farmers have to sell their grain at Liverpool prices, less cost of transportation, and silver miners have to sell their bullion at twenty per cent. discount, ought to be sufficient.

Cutting Down of Rates.

The San Francisco Chronicle says: No further efforts are being made to reorganize the San Francisco Passenger Agents Association, and the situation so far as the tariff maintainers are concerned has settled down to a state of hopeless despondency. In fact there are very few tickets sold by the overland roads at anything approaching schedule rates, and those who have announced their determination to pay only the regular commissions of $3 on first-class tickets, $2 on second-class and $1 on emigrant are said to be doing very little business, although, in the calm confidence of their position that the present fight is only a temporary affair, they seem to rest assured, and at any rate they will be able to present a clean record to their head officials. Rates to New York yesterday were openly made at $25 off from the regular rate of $125.25 called for by the Transcontinental Association's east-bound passenger tariff.
The report circulated recently to the effect that the Southern Pacific Company contemplated a reduction of the through first-class passenger rate to $75 is misleading. The Southern Pacific Company cannot make new rates to Eastern points. Between this coast and the Missouri river they are made by the Transcontinental Association, and from the Missouri river to the East by the Trunk-line pools.

Fitz-John Porter.

General Bragg, of Wisconsin, Chairman of the House Committee on Military Affairs, said last Thursday night that within the next ten days a bill for the restoration of Fitz-John Porter to the army would be reported from the Military Committee to the House. It is almost identical with the bill passed by the last Congress and vetoed by President Arthur. The House will pass it, General Bragg says, by a large majority, and as five Republican Senators who voted for the measure last year are still in the Senate to vote for it again, he sees no reason why it may not be passed and signed by the President within the next thirty days.

The Echo des Alpes publishes a summary of the fatal accidents that have occurred since 1859 in climbing the Swiss Alps. During this period there have been eighty such accidents, whereby 134 persons have lost their lives. At Atlanta, Ga., there is a young negro man acting as porter in a cotton room in the city who has the best university education. His classical education is fuller than that of any person in the building, and yet he can find nothing better to do than such work as a cornfield hand might expect to do. Out of his class of perhaps thirty, all but two have dropped back into just such work as he is doing.

Since the Stead-Armstrong business it has been a common practice for girls and women in England to accuse doctors attending them of impropriety. In most instances the jury have promptly acquitted, but a Dr. Brady was sent to prison. On December 11th this gentleman was entertained at dinner and presented with an address and 400 guineas by the members of the profession as a mark of their esteem and belief in his innocence. Sir William Jenner, physician to the Queen, was one of the first promoters of the fund, and the address was signed by him and the leading medical men throughout the country.

There will be an astounding number of new men in the new English Parliament, and for a time the inhabitants of the gallery will have some difficulty in knowing the names of those who are speaking. But among the new and the young men will be a sprinkling of very old heads. In addition to Mr. Gladstone there will be John Bright, who is now seventy-three years of age; Mr. Talbot, "the father of the House," who has represented Glamorganshire for fifty-five years, and is verging on eighty-five years of age, and Caleb Wright, who enters on a Parliamentary career as member of Leigh with seventy-five years behind him.

Let It Out.

Denver News.

As soon as a silver dollar is coined it is put in a burglar proof vault and fastened in with a time lock. Then the coyotes of the National Banks sit around and howl because that dollar doesn't "circulate." How can it circulate when it can't get out?

The silver debate was opened in the Senate Wednesday. From present appearances it is probable that the gold bugs will wish that they had not stirred up the animal. The coinage of standard dollars will not be suspended, and there is a possibility that stringent measures will be adopted to compel the Administration to treat silver fairly in the future.—San Francisco Chronicle.

STORIES OF A GAMBLER.

Paying Back Money Lost at His Room—Bled by an Army Paymaster.

The following stories are told of Charlie Ransom, one of the most prominent gamblers in New York City, who died a few days ago:

"There is one story he never told to anyone, and it's about as pretty a story as I ever heard. About twelve years ago a young fellow came down from near Litchfield, Conn., with $10,000 in his pocket. It was his entire fortune and with it he was going to buy a dairy farm out in Orange county and then get married to a girl he left behind him in Litchfield. The first night he was in the city he happened to stumble into Charlie's house. The next morning he came out with just enough to buy his ticket back to Litchfield. He bought it, went back, saw his girl, told her the story and then bade her good-by. He was going, he said, to California and would never return until he had gotten together again the $10,000. His girl was one of those women who will do anything for the man they love. She told him to wait there in Litchfield for two days before starting for California. Then she put on her cloak and came alone here to New York and went straight to Ransom. A few quiet words she told him the story. Charlie shook her hand, said he wouldn't part her from her lover for the world, asked her how much she had been lost, took $10,000 out of the safe and gave it to her, together with a valuable diamond pin to fasten the baby's bonnet strings together. She blushed and went back home. They got married, bought a farm and haven't been in the city since, but the happy husband always sent a brace of big turkeys to Charlie every Christmas and Thanksgiving. Oh, yes, their baby is seven years old now.

"In 1864 Ransom ran up against a 'snag' that took $50,000 of his money in one swoop. It was the only time I ever knew Charlie to be beaten in a big game of poker. It was out in St. Louis, where he had gone on a flying trip. I was in the game, so was a prominent hotel keeper and a Paymaster in the United States Army. The game grew heavy. Finally there was $10,000 in the 'pot.' Then Ransom, who held a pair of twos, as it proved, looked up and smiled serenely as he drew out a thundering roll of greenbacks and raised the pot $40,000. You see he knew two of us hadn't as much money as that, and as it was a cash game he knew he could raise us out. The fourth hand the Paymaster had played a very quiet game, and Ransom didn't take him into account. But the Paymaster was there. He was an innocent looking youth. He reached down under his chair, pulled up a big satchel, counted out $40,000 in United States greenbacks and then raised Ransom $40,000. Ransom never moved a muscle of his face, but he just 'laid down' his hand, said 'good evening gentlemen,' and walked out.

"You see, the Paymaster had his satchel cram full of money he was taking down to New Orleans to pay off the soldiers there. He dropped on Ransom's bluff, and had just fallen back on the Government's money. He only had ace high.

A RESURRECTION.

Restoring a Dead Man to Life by Medical Skill.

St. Louis Globe Democrat.

John F. Munger, a prominent citizen of Plattville, Wisconsin, has been a sufferer for some time past with rheumatism in his feet. Two days ago, to relieve the intense pain, he applied tincture of acouite freely to the skin, and soon after put his feet into a bath of hot water. A tingling sensation in the hands and feet following almost immediately extending ultimately all over the body. Mr. Munger's pulse became weaker, his skin became moist and clammy, and vomiting and retching set in severely. The family physician, Dr. Hermann Gasser, was at once sent for, but on his arrival he found his patient apparently dead, the heart having ceased to beat. Another medical man was called in and confirmed the opinion of the family physician that Mr. Munger was dead, and that his death was caused by the absorption of acouite, a rank poison, in the system through the pores of the skin. While the family were mourning over the demise of their father, and the undertaker preparing to perform his duty, Dr. Gasser, as an experiment, with a hypodermic syringe injected some brandy and digitalis close to the heart, and in about two minutes, to the surprise of all present, Mr. M. began to gasp for air, which was soon repeated. Putting his ear to the patient's chest, the doctor heard the heart beat, and, encouraged by the prospect of success, hypodermic medication was given in rapid succession. The death pail rapidly gave way to a suffused redness, the muscles resumed their natural positions, the cold clammy skin was warmed up, and was followed up by perspiration, and he improved every minute, although it taxed the resources of the doctors to pilot him back to life. Mr. Munger is now entirely out of danger. His recitation is pronounced by physicians hereabouts as the most wonderful in the annals of medical practice.

Notwithstanding the intense opposition to his reappointment as Chairman of the Committee on Coinage Mr. Bland takes his old place. This is a decided victory for the silver men in Congress. As for the composition of the remainder of the committee it is impossible to tell at this time whether or not the majority is in sympathy with the views of the Chairman on the coinage question. Nevertheless the appointment of Mr. Bland is alone a signal triumph. Mr. Woodburn, of Nevada, has a place on the Committee on Banking and Currency. He can be of service to his constituents on this committee.—Enterprise.

"Say, do you continue sending the Weekly Journal to my brother?"

"Yes. Why? Do you wish it stopped?"

"Oh, no! Keep sending it, for it saves lots of letter writing."

George Becker's Popular Resort

The Granite saloon is the coziest place in town to pass the long winter evenings. It is well warmed and lighted, and the table strewn with the most popular illustrated weeklies, sporting journals and coast newspapers. The bar is stocked with pure Kentucky rye and Bourbon whiskeys, and the cellar filled with barrels of foaming beer, cases of rare old cognac brandy and sparkling wines. There is a fine billiard table on the premises for the accommodation of guests, who can amuse themselves in punching the ivory spheres or knocking down the pins.

Eureka ex-officials.

It is charged that several ex-officials of Eureka county are short in their accounts. The Commissioners appointed experts last Spring to examine the books of the officials, but only one of them has reported, and his report was submitted to the Grand Jury, which also examined the books, but allowed their term to expire without making a report. The Sentinel intimates that the District Attorney will now make it uncomfortably warm for the ex-officials and their bondsmen.

Incorporated.

Articles of incorporation have been filed in the California Secretary of State's office, of the Halleck Cattle Company, to operate in Nevada, Idaho, and elsewhere. Directors—John F. Also, of the Northern Cattle Company, to operate in Montana and elsewhere. Same Directors as in the Halleck Company. Capital stock, $750,000, all of which is subscribed.

Compulsory Education Law.

The complaint having been made concerning the non-enforcement of the Compulsory Education law, the School Trustees request the JOURNAL to publish the law, and here it is:

SECTION 1. Every parent, guardian or other person in the State of Nevada, having control or charge of a child or children, between the ages of eight and fourteen years, shall be required to send such child or children to a public school for a period of at least sixteen weeks in each school year, at least eight weeks of which shall be consecutive, unless such child or children are excused from such attendance by the Board of School Trustees of the school district in which such parents or guardians reside, upon its being shown to their satisfaction that the bodily or mental condition of such child or children has been such as to prevent his or her or their attendance at school, or application to study for the period required, or that such child or children are taught in a private school or at home, in such branches as are usually taught in primary schools, or have already acquired the ordinary branches of learning taught in the public school; provided, in case a public school shall not be taught for the period of sixteen weeks, or any part thereof, during the year, within two miles by the nearest traveled road, of the residence of any person within the school district, he or she shall not be liable to the provisions of this Act.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the Board of School Trustees of each school district in this State, on or before the first Monday in September in each year, to furnish the Principal of each public school taught in such district with a list of all children, resident in the school district, between the ages of eight and fourteen years, said list to be taken from the report of the school Census Marshal. At the beginning of each school month thereafter, it shall be the duty of the Principal of each school in such district to report to the Board of School Trustees of such district the names of all children attending school during the previous school month; when, if it shall appear, at the expiration of four school months, to the Board of School Trustees, that any parent, guardian, or other person having charge or control of any child, or children, shall have failed to comply with the provisions of this Act, the Board shall cause demand to be made upon such parent, guardian, or other person, for the amount of the penalty hereinafter provided; when, if such parent, guardian, or other person, shall neglect or refuse to pay the same within five days after the making of said demand, the Board shall commence proceedings, in the name of the school district, for the recovery of the fine hereinafter provided, before any Justice of the Peace in the township to which said school district is located; or if there shall be no Justice of the Peace therein, then before the nearest Justice of the Peace in the county.

SEC. 3. Any parent, guardian or other person having control or charge of any child, or children, failing to comply with the provisions of this Act, shall be liable to a fine of not less than fifty dollars, nor more than one hundred dollars, for the first offense, nor less than one hundred dollars, nor more than two hundred dollars, for the second and each subsequent offense, besides the costs of collection.

SEC. 4. Whenever it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Board of School Trustees of any school district in this State that the parents, guardians, or other persons having control and charge of any child, or children, in attendance upon the public school of said district, in accordance with the provisions of this Act, are unable to procure suitable books, stationery, etc., for such child, or children, it shall be the duty of such Board to procure, for such child, or children, all necessary books, stationery, etc., the same to be paid for out of the Fund of said school district, in the same way that other claims against the school district are now allowed and paid; provided, that all books, stationery, etc., purchased under the provisions of this Act shall be deemed to be the property of the school district, to be under the care and control of the School Trustees, when not in actual use.

SEC. 5. All fines collected under the provisions of this Act shall be paid into the county treasury on account of the State School Fund.

SEC. 6. It shall be the duty of the County Superintendent of Public Schools in each county in this State to cause this law to be published in some newspaper in his county, if any there be, four consecutive times, annually, for a period of two years, the expense of such publication to be allowed and paid out of the General School Fund of the county. The Board of School Trustees in each school district shall cause to be posted, annually, for a period of two years, in three public places in their district, notices of the requirements and penalties of this Act.

A Timely Warning.

The Carson Tribune says there is a strong under current of political independence gathering in Ormsby county and it will be well for the leaders of the "Grand old Party" to pay attention to the fact, and give the dear people a chance.

The Leavitts.

Leavitt's Grand Double Specialty Company will make its first appearance here Tuesday evening, and, judging from the looks of the box sheet, will have a good house. The following is from the Clatsop Enquirer of a late date:

If a theater crowded to its utmost capacity, with standing room held at a premium, is anything to predict a successful week upon, the house that greeted the opening performance of M. B. Leavitt's Double Specialty Company last night certainly warrants that prediction. The bill offered is a full feast of everything novel—nothing old—all fresh from first to last; a refreshing change after a surfeit of porcine fat dishes, the usual fare afforded by the average specialty company. Mr. Leavitt has certainly gathered together a good company. Joe J. Sullivan opens the evening's bill with a clever Irish sketch, "Just Over," followed by the Martell Brothers in a great acrobatic act; Maccheater and Jennings, in an inimitable comedy turn in black face, followed by a most decided novelty, John and Louise Tilt's Marionettes in the pantomime, "Beauty and the Beast," a feature that received the most vociferous applause; Miss Mollie Wilson as "Bartholomew's Statue," the Martell family of bicycle marvels, in a wonderful act; Charles Stanley and Lizzie Conway, in a sparkling sketch, "Perrinwick's Retire," and the four musical kings, Woods, Brasley and the Weston Brothers, undoubtedly the musical team of the variety stage. The performance concludes with the laughable comedians, W. F. Carroll and Joe J. Sullivan, in the humorous comedy, "The Blighted Bachelors," which dismissed the well-pleased audience.

Last evening Louis Dean shipped eight car-loads of mutton sheep, three car-loads of beef cattle and one car-load of cows and calves to Stockton, and George Humphrey, 2 car-loads of beef cattle to Dutch Flat, California.
